Dear

I greatly appreciate having had a chance to talk with you the other day and after you left I had an opportunity to study carefully the most interesting paper you left with me.

Meanwhile, our conversations with our mutual friend are progressing somewhat turbulently, but that is only natural in view of the temperament involved. I believe in due course we will work out a satisfactory solution and we may well want to look to you further for help and guidance in effecting this. If so, I shall call upon you and hope you will let me know if by any chance you are here again.

Sincerely,
